Saving for your retirement and a child's college education can be challenging. Many consider saving for retirement and then borrowing for education costs, but that approach can substantially increase the cost of a college education and potentially derail your retirement. Edward Jones can help you develop an investment strategy to help you work toward achieving both goals. The key, however, is to start now, so call your financial advisor today.

Understanding Risk

While few people enjoy taking risk, it's a normal part of investing. In fact, some risk is actually beneficial and serves a valuable purpose. If investors didn't accept some risk, there wouldn't be the potential to achieve higher returns. However, it's important to ensure you're not taking on unnecessary risk. The goal is to determine what level of risk you're comfortable accepting and then balance it with the required risk necessary to achieve your long-term goals.

What Is Risk?

Risk in the investment world is usually associated with volatility. At its most basic level, risk refers to uncertainty and is much broader than volatility and the potential for (and size of) losses. Perhaps the biggest risk you may face is not reaching your financial goals. For example, a portfolio that is all in cash may have little volatility, but it also won't provide any growth potential or inflation protection. For retirees, not keeping up with inflation or not having the right withdrawal strategy can lead to another major risk: the risk of outliving your money. Ultimately, the key is to determine what level of risk is appropriate to help you achieve your goals.

Determining the Right Level of Risk

While risk may come in many forms, the process of determining what level of risk you're comfortable with covers three main areas.

1. Risk tolerance refers to your comfort level with taking risk. Gauging risk tolerance is important because you're unlikely to reach your long-term goals if you abandon your strategy due to short-term market volatility.
2. Risk capacity considers your ability to handle risk. Your investment time horizon is one of the biggest factors in determining risk capacity. If you're young and saving for retirement, you have a long time to make up for losses. Other factors, such as income needs, may also influence your risk capacity. Investors with substantial fixed expenses may be unable to tolerate much volatility.
3. Required risk refers to the level of risk necessary to achieve your investment goals. The higher the return necessary to reach your goals, the more potential risk you'll need to take to achieve them.

The Balancing Act

The next step is a balancing act, as there may be a discrepancy between how much risk you are comfortable taking and how much you actually must take to achieve your goals. Meet with your financial advisor to discuss your goals and the amount of risk you're willing to take to reach them. You may need to make some difficult decisions, but ultimately, these decisions can help you find the proper balance and may help you avoid the biggest risk you face: not reaching your financial goals.

Market Commentary as of March 31, 2012

Volatility Subsides as Economic Data Improves

Volatility, as measured by the VIX index, declined sharply during the first quarter and touched its lowest levels since April 2011 late in the quarter. This continues a trend which began at the start of the fourth quarter 2011 and has led to one of the steepest declines in volatility on record. Contributing to the drop-off in volatility has been continued improvement in the U.S. economy, as labor markets have improved, manufacturing data has been healthy, consumer spending has been resilient and corporate profits and dividends have both been rising. During the first quarter of 2012, 122 S&P 500 companies raised their dividend by an average of 20% versus just 84 companies raising their dividend at this point in 2011, and only 58 at this point in 2010.

Equity Markets Surge to Kickoff 2012

As a result of the improving U.S. economic backdrop and less concern over European debt issues, equity markets had their best first quarter since 1998, with the S&P 500 up 12.6%. The S&P 500 is now up 28% since the market bottomed in early October of last year. Within the broader equity markets, emerging international markets rose 14.1%, mid-cap stocks rose 13.5%, small cap was up 12.4% and developed international markets rose 11.0%. From a style allocation standpoint, value continued to underperform growth, with value equities up 11.1% during the quarter versus growth equities which rose 14.7%.

Bond Market is Looking Tired after a Strong 30-year Run

Bond markets took a breather with the BarCap U.S. Aggregate Bond Index up only 0.3% during the quarter and up only 1.4% over the past 6 months. The yield on the benchmark 10-year treasury rose to 2.2% from 1.9% at the end of 2011, sending U.S. Treasuries down 1.3%. Within the broader fixed income space, high yield bonds rose 5.3%, corporate bonds rose 2.1% and municipals were up 1.8%. These relatively weaker bond market results come after the period ending December 2011 marked the first time in history that bonds had outperformed stocks over each of the trailing 1, 5, 10, 20 and 30 year rolling periods.

Stock Market is Likely to take a Breather at Some Point

According to Ned Davis Research, since 1900 we have seen a 5% or more decline in the S&P 500 3 times a year on average and a 10% or more correction about once a year. With rising oil prices, an uncertain political environment heading into the elections in November, concerns over slowing growth in China, and European debt concerns all still weighing on investor's minds, it is likely that markets will experience some type of pullback during the year. When the inevitable pullback occurs, it is important for you to be mentally prepared so you have a better chance of maintaining a disciplined approach and achieving your longer-term objectives. As we have been reminded of here again recently, some of the best periods in the market come immediately following steep declines so it is important to stay invested when volatility does occur.

Edward Jones Advisory Solutions: Staying Disciplined

One of the key benefits of the Edward Jones Advisory Solutions Program is the disciplined approach to investing that will broadly diversify your portfolio within your overall asset allocation and keep you invested with discipline through both up and down markets. An investor that panicked during the third quarter of last year and moved to the sidelines would have missed the subsequent 28% rise in equities that occurred over the past six months. You can rest assured that our program will help keep you invested throughout market cycles in an effort to help you achieve your overall objectives.

The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own taxable accounts and individual retirement accounts, other than tax-qualified accounts and accounts subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), will be comprised of a Program Fee and an Administrative Fee, less any Fee Offset that may be applied by Edward Jones. The Program Fee is for advisory services provided by Edward Jones under the terms of the Client Agreement. The Administrative Fee is for record-keeping, accounting services and other administrative services provided by Edward Jones.

The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own employee benefit plans subject to ERISA pay only the Program Fee subject to the applicable fee schedule set forth in the Client Agreement.

Fee Offset - As described in Item 5 of the Advisory Solutions Brochure, compensation may be received by Edward Jones from mutual fund companies, such as payments for marketing and distribution (referred to as Rule 12b-1 fees) and for shareholding accounting services. Such compensation will be used to satisfy or otherwise offset the Program Fee or the Administrative Fee, if applicable ("Fee Offset").

Compensation received from Rule 12b-1 fees will be applied as a Fee Offset against a Client's Advisory Solutions Fee equal to the amount of Rule 12b-1 fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on taxable accounts and IRAs that are not subject to ERISA will be collected and then allocated as a Fee Offset proportionately to all taxable accounts and IRAs based upon the value of the account's holding of Program Funds. Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on tax qualified accounts (other than IRAs) and IRAs subject to ERISA, will be applied against the account equal to the amount of shareholder accounting fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

REPORT INFORMATION:

Account Summary - Basic representation of Your Portfolio, divided between Equities, Fixed Income, and Cash Equivalents.

Actual vs. Target Allocation - Comparison by Asset Class of the Actual Asset Allocation against its Target Allocation. Target Allocation is based upon the Portfolio Objective selected. The actual and target asset allocation weightings are based on the overarching mandate of the mutual funds/ETFs and may not be representative of the actual underlying holdings of the funds, as the underlying holdings may vary on a daily basis.

Asset Class Performance - This page illustrates performance returns for each Asset Class (gross of the Advisory Solutions Fee and net of associated fund fees) along with that of Your Portfolio (net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees). Please note that if you are enrolled in Alternate Account Billing, Your Portfolio will reflect performance gross of the Advisory Solutions Fee rather than net. Asset Class performance is calculated on Program List funds only. Performance is calculated on a time-weighted rate of return basis.

Portfolio Performance vs. Market Indices - This page discloses the performance returns for Your Portfolio and multiple benchmarks. Performance is calculated on a time-weighted rate of return basis.

Portfolio Growth - Tracks the change in value of Your Portfolio on an ongoing basis and discloses net additions/withdrawals, Advisory Solutions Fees paid and the gain/loss of the account. The gain/loss and market value figures are illustrated net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses. If you have chosen Alternate Account Billing for your account, your market value and gain/loss figures are shown gross of the Advisory Solutions Fee and you will need to refer to the alternate billed account for the Fee amounts.

Account Holdings - List of the securities held within the account as of quarter end. Information is grouped by Asset Class. Other details provided include fund style, market value and percent of total portfolio. Note that in some instances, the market value summation of each individual asset class may not equal Your Total Portfolio amount. This is because Your Total Portfolio amount includes income earned but not yet paid (accrued income) while the individual security and asset class values only include income paid.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

Federated Securities Corp. ^{3,4}	$10.00	$0	$0.4 million

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011 ¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011 ¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 ²	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2011 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.
