Reminder about Muni Bonds

Speculation exists about increasing defaults and downgrades for municipal (muni) bonds. In general, we don't believe investment-grade quality bonds will experience this. Municipalities at the greatest risk continue to be those that are below investment-grade or borderline investment-grade quality. We believe the best approach is to own quality bonds, diversify and keep a long-term perspective. For more details, talk to your financial advisor and read our related report at www.edwardjones.com/muni.

High oil prices always get headlines.

Investors may worry that high oil prices could derail the strengthening economy. However, we believe the economy is strong enough to absorb higher oil prices. With no further production disruption, oil prices wouldn't likely rise much more and could reverse quickly. In that case, any impact should be small, not severe, so investors shouldn't overreact. While headlines from the Middle East represent a risk, a well-diversified portfolio is designed to navigate risky waters and help you toward your long-term financial goals.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2009, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $94.2 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $30.7 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $164.3 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to the standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .125% or 12.5 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $12.50 for that transaction.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following Revenue Sharing Summary tables.

Please review the following Revenue Sharing tables, which provide detailed information and disclosures concerning Edward Jones' revenue sharing arrangements.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners is included in the following revenue sharing summary tables. Revenue sharing paid in connection with mutual fund-based retirement plans is included in the "Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary" table. Revenue sharing paid in connection with group annuity-based retirement plans is included on the "Insurance and Annuity Product Providers: Revenue Sharing Summary" table, which can be found on our website, www.edwardjones.com.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$6,500

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors ("American") as an asset fee because American has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $24.42 per $10,000 purchased. American has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American is the program manager.

<sup>8</sup> Putnam Retail Management, L.P. ("Putnam") ceased paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones as of March 15, 2009. Putnam paid Edward Jones a portion of the amount otherwise due under the parties' agreement for the period from Jan. 1, 2009, through March 15, 2009.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010<sup>1</sup>
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 <sup>2</sup>	$-	$-
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 <sup>2</sup>	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 <sup>2</sup>	$-	$-
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010<sup>1</sup>
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 <sup>2</sup>	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010 <sup>1</sup>
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 <sup>2</sup>	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010 <sup>1</sup>
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 <sup>2</sup>	$-	$-
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

All-terrain Investing: Preparing for Varying Road Conditions

Long-term investors encounter a wide variety of market conditions. They can be almost as varied as the terrain. Sometimes it's smooth and easy to navigate, and other times, the investment landscape is rocky and hilly, slowing your progress. In general, we're optimistic about the future, but there will be bumps along the way. Although you can't avoid them, you can work to smooth out the ride by owning a mix of investments that tend to do well in different market environments.

During the past several years, the market's path has been filled with major peaks and valleys, which have been the direct result of what is called "risk-on, risk-off" behavior. When economic news is positive, investors are optimistic and more willing to take on risk with investments that depend more on the economy for growth — and therefore fluctuate more. When the headlines turn negative, investors tend to become more risk-averse, or "risk-off." Rather than moving between "risk-on" and "risk-off" buying, consider a variety of companies that may provide opportunities in both types of markets.

Get in Gear

In our view, now is not the time to "park" your investment strategy. Given the uncertainty about European debt, U.S. budget deficits and the election, we expect market volatility to continue in the shorter term. In our view, the best way to prepare is to maintain a well-balanced portfolio with adequate holdings in quality investments. We believe equities offer an attractive opportunity and recommend the equity portion of your portfolio be well-balanced across sectors, with quality holdings that can benefit as the market landscape shifts.

Is Your Portfolio Prepared?

We think the current environment offers good opportunities for investors, but the challenges of the "risk-on, risk-off" pattern underscore the importance of being prepared. Make sure your portfolio contains quality investments and is diversified across sectors that perform well in varying environments. When appropriate, rebalance to take advantage of market movements. And remember, even when current events temporarily impact the market, keep focusing on your long-term financial goals, such as retirement and paying for education. Regardless of the landscape, your long-term financial goals should serve as your constant horizon.

For more information, ask your financial advisor for our full report on this topic.

Investing in stocks involves risk. Your investment return and principal value will fluctuate, and you may lose money. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

Taxes Don't Have a Season: Five Ideas to Consider Now

Too often, the thought of how to reduce taxes occurs only during March and April as the tax deadline approaches. Your taxes are determined when a transaction is made, so potentially reducing your tax bill and planning ahead should be a year-round endeavor. Here are five ideas to help you be tax-smart every day of the year.

- 1. Know which tax deductions and credits you can take. Be aware of any deductions (IRA contributions, health savings account contributions and tuition and fees) or tax credits (retirement savings contribution credits, education credits and child and dependent care credits) you might be eligible to take.
- 2. "Tax-diversify" your savings. Different types of tax-favored accounts have different benefits. For example, with a traditional IRA, your contributions may be tax-deductible and can grow tax deferred. With a Roth IRA, your contributions are nondeductible, but distributions you take during retirement are tax-free.* Each IRA provides benefits that could prove more valuable depending on future tax rates. While your situation and the tax code may be anything but constant, one thing is certain: An important benefit of having money in different types of tax-favored accounts is flexibility when it's time to withdraw your funds.
- 3. Fund early. If you wait until the tax deadline to fund your IRA each year, you miss up to 15 months of potential tax-deferred growth on your contribution. Although 15 months may not seem like a significant amount of time, it may considerably impact your retirement savings.
- 4. Directly deposit your tax refund into your IRA. Your 2011 tax refund is one way to help add to your retirement savings goals. You can instruct the IRS to directly deposit your tax refund into as many as three separate accounts. This includes any checking, savings and retirement accounts, such as an Edward Jones IRA. ## Understanding Risk

While few people enjoy taking risk, it's a normal part of investing. In fact, some risk is actually beneficial and serves a valuable purpose. If investors didn't accept some risk, there wouldn't be the potential to achieve higher returns. However, it's important to ensure you're not taking on unnecessary risk. The goal is to determine what level of risk you're comfortable accepting and then balance it with the required risk necessary to achieve your long-term goals.

What Is Risk?

Risk in the investment world is usually associated with volatility. At its most basic level, risk refers to uncertainty and is much broader than volatility and the potential for (and size of) losses. Perhaps the biggest risk you may face is not reaching your financial goals. For example, a portfolio that is all in cash may have little volatility, but it also won't provide any growth potential or inflation protection. For retirees, not keeping up with inflation or not having the right withdrawal strategy can lead to another major risk: the risk of outliving your money. Ultimately, the key is to determine what level of risk is appropriate to help you achieve your goals.

Determining the Right Level of Risk

While risk may come in many forms, the process of determining what level of risk you're comfortable with covers three main areas:

1. Risk tolerance refers to your comfort level with taking risk. Gauging risk tolerance is important because you're unlikely to reach your long-term goals if you abandon your strategy due to short-term market volatility.
2. Risk capacity considers your ability to handle risk. Your investment time horizon is one of the biggest factors in determining risk capacity. If you're young and saving for retirement, you have a long time to make up for losses. Other factors, such as income needs, may also influence your risk capacity. Investors with substantial fixed expenses may be unable to tolerate much volatility.
3. Required risk refers to the level of risk necessary to achieve your investment goals. The higher the return necessary to reach your goals, the more potential risk you'll need to take to achieve them.

The Balancing Act

The next step is a balancing act, as there may be a discrepancy between how much risk you are comfortable taking and how much you actually must take to achieve your goals. Meet with your financial advisor to discuss your goals and the amount of risk you're willing to take to reach them. You may need to make some difficult decisions, but ultimately, these decisions can help you find the proper balance and may help you avoid the biggest risk you face: not reaching your financial goals.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary

American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 <sup>2</sup>	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 <sup>2</sup>	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011<sup>1</sup>
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 <sup>2</sup>	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Staying Calm While Markets Churn

After a strong start to 2012, stocks seemingly reversed course and crawled lower in early summer. As expected, Europe's debt troubles moved back into the headlines, triggering worries about Greece's possible exit from the euro as well as broader concerns about Europe's policymaking.

Churning markets can mean frequent daily declines, and those can be disheartening. In our view, the swing in the short-term market trend isn't surprising, nor does it require changing your investment portfolio if it's already well-diversified.

European Voters Reject Austerity

European elections at the beginning of May again showed that voters everywhere are unhappy with the austerity programs designed to reduce high deficits and debts. We believe the French election was more important, but the political disarray in Greece could be more disruptive.

Why 2012 Isn't a Repeat of 2011

Although you may think these events seem eerily similar to market stumbles in the past two years, we don't think this year's volatility will be as severe. Remember, though, that some volatility is normal. That means we expect stocks to drop by 10% or more at least once during the remainder of the year. Typically, we experience pullbacks in the market - when stocks drop by 5% or more - about three times a year. Of course, past performance does not guarantee future results.

What's improved compared to last year? Here are several important differences that may help keep markets less volatile in 2012:

- Despite another bout of European debt flu, progress has been made, and the patient isn't back in the hospital.
- The European Central Bank has started providing three-year loans to European banks.
- The U.S. economy grew at an annual rate of 2.2% in the first quarter of 2012, compared with 0.4% in the first quarter of last year.
- Commodity prices have generally declined in 2012.
- Inflation has subsided in most areas, and several countries have lowered interest rates, providing a possible boost to global growth later in the year.

While we all want faster growth, stronger markets and the overhang of the Great Recession to diminish, these take time. Fortunately, time can be an antidote to many current challenges.

Staying Calm While Markets Churn

We don't think Europe's issues will be resolved anytime soon, and stocks are likely to continue churning up and down as they're caught in the tug of war between stronger domestic conditions and unsettling European drama. In addition, the economy is still in a modest recovery, so unexpected economic reports could also impact the markets. That typically means more short-term volatility, so be prepared.

Market pullbacks happen frequently, and no one can correctly guess daily stock market ups and downs. But you may wish to take advantage of lower prices to add quality stocks when appropriate. Your financial advisor can help you determine whether this fits within an overall strategy to help keep your investments appropriately positioned for your long-term goals.

New Fee Waivers Coming in January

Currently, Edward Jones' annual fee for Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) is waived for households with assets of $500,000 or more. Beginning in 2013, we will lower the threshold to $250,000. As a result, you may want to consider consolidating your assets. Doing so can provide a more focused view of your investments and help ensure they are working together to keep you on track to meet your goals. Transferring your investments is simple, so talk to your financial advisor.

Make your financial future a priority.

Your finances may be less obvious and easier to ignore than the clutter piling up in the garage and the grass growing taller in your yard. But that doesn't mean you should ignore them. It's important to review your finances at least once a year because just as the markets and interest rates change, so too does your financial situation. During a review, your financial advisor can discuss strategies to help you work toward your financial goals, both short- and long-term. Call today.

How Do Long-term Investors Fare?

We've all heard this has been a tough era for long-term investors.

It's no secret that U.S. stocks punished investors in the first part of the 21st century. The bursting of the technology stocks and housing bubble, the 9/11 terrorist attack, three bear markets and two recessions all resulted in sharp stock market declines. But stocks have rebounded five years after each sell-off for which we have data. In addition, the S&P 500 with dividends reinvested reached a new record high in August 2012, up from its previous peak in October 2007. Stock prices have mostly (but not quite) recovered their ground — just as they have after past stock declines.

While election campaigns frequently ask whether you're better off than you were four years ago, long-term investors tend to look at decades of returns. Until recently, stocks had turned in some of the worst 10-year annualized returns in history.

It's rare for stocks as a whole to lose ground over a decade. Historically, average 10-year stock returns have been greater than 4% nearly 85% of the time since 1935. After 24 months when stocks were, at best, flat over 10 years, the rolling 10-year returns began to rebound in March 2009 and were up to 6.3% per year over the 10 years ending July 2012. Those who stayed invested are most likely seeing their portfolios improve.

While disappointing decades are rare, they do happen. But rough decades for stocks have been followed by decades of above-average returns. No one can predict what will happen, but with history as a guide, we believe the future looks brighter than the recent past.

A Long-term Strategy

Sticking with the investments you own today is a vital lesson because those who exit the market often fail to reinvest. And you must be invested to participate when stock prices rise. You'll also be invested when they fall, but historically, stocks have risen for more months than they've fallen — even since the end of 1999. Talk with your financial advisor to help ensure your strategy stays on track to meet your long-term financial goals.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. You should make investment decisions based upon your unique objectives, risk tolerance and financial circumstances. An investment in stocks will fluctuate with changes in market conditions and may be worth more or less than the original investment when sold. An index is not managed and is not available for direct investment.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Balancing the Long-term and Short-term Outlook for Equities

For the most part, 2012 has been a solid year for the stock market. However, as we move into the latter part of the year, we think it's important to have realistic expectations. While we believe the long-term outlook for stocks remains favorable, the short term could be a bit foggier.

Three Factors to Bear in Mind

Rising valuations and policy concerns create uncertainty, which can lead investors to worry about potential future risks. In addition to such overseas concerns as Europe's financial crisis and China's slowing growth, there's plenty of uncertainty here at home. In addition, due to the stock market's performance over the past year, stock valuations are not as attractive as before.

Modest economic and earnings growth is a positive long-term driver. After blisteringly fast double-digit earnings growth in the first two years of the rebound from the financial crisis, earnings growth was slower in the first half of 2012, and signs point to a further slowdown. However, companies are flush with cash, giving them the ability to raise dividends and repurchase shares. Modest but sustained economic growth has been favorable for the stock market over time. In addition, stocks have performed well in the past when the fog of policy uncertainty lifted. Of course, past performance of the market is not a guarantee of what will happen in the future.

While no company is completely immune to the impact from the broader environment and all stocks carry risk, we believe some may be better equipped to find their way through the haze. For example, consider companies that have launched a new product cycle, have entered new markets or are pursuing a new strategy.

Action for Investors

When surrounded by fog, it's often difficult to see what's in front of you. Brace your portfolio for the unexpected by rebalancing it to your target mix of investments and improving its diversification. We believe you can strengthen your portfolio by investing in companies positioned to chart their own course. Companies that have a unique strategy or competitive advantage may be better able to grow earnings and dividends despite the uncertainty and sluggish growth environment. For suggestions on which equities may be well-suited to your portfolio, contact your financial advisor. For more information or to read additional market outlooks, visit www.edwardjones.com/q4outlook.

An investment in stocks will fluctuate with changes in market conditions and may be worth more or less than the original investment when sold. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against loss.

Five Ways to Stay Tax Smart This Year

The fiscal cliff may have been averted, but the last-minute resolution has left some issues unresolved and may have set the stage for future political battles. The consensus, however, is that many Americans will be paying more taxes. Here are five tax-smart strategies to help make the most of your investment dollars:

1. Fund your IRA early.

Waiting until the tax deadline to fund your IRA can cost you up to 15 months of potential tax-deferred growth on your contribution. Although 15 months may not seem like a significant amount of time, it may considerably impact your retirement savings over the long term.

2. Tax deductions and tax credits are your friends.

When working with your tax professional, don't forget tax credits you may be eligible for, such as the retirement savings contribution credit, education credit and child and dependent care credit. Also, consider such tax deductions as IRA contributions, health savings account contributions and tuition and fees.

3. Be direct with your tax refund.

Put your 2012 tax refund to work. You can instruct the IRS to directly deposit all or part of it into as many as three separate checking, savings and retirement accounts, including an Edward Jones IRA.

4. Variety is the spice of life — and of investing.

Different types of tax-favored accounts have different benefits. A traditional IRA may offer tax-deductible contributions that can grow tax deferred. Although contributions to Roth IRAs are nondeductible, distributions taken during retirement are tax-free.* Each IRA provides benefits that could prove valuable depending on future tax rates. An important benefit of having money in different types of tax-favored accounts is flexibility when it's time to withdraw your funds.

5. There's no time like the present.

Life changes, and these changes can impact your investments. That's why it's important to review your portfolio at least annually with your financial advisor. He or she can help you determine if changes are needed.

For more tax-smart strategies, talk with your financial advisor or visit www.edwardjones.com/taxtalk.

*Earnings distributions from Roth IRAs may be subject to taxes and a 10% penalty under certain circumstances, including if the account is less than five years old or the owner is under age 59-1/2.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary

American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 <sup>2</sup>	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

When Will Interest Rates Rise? Growing More Cautious on Long-term Bonds

For the past several years, investors have asked, "When will interest rates rise?" No one can predict the exact time rates will move, but we believe the next significant move will be higher given their historically low levels today and our outlook for continued economic improvement. When interest rates increase, bonds will fall in value, but long-term bonds fall more than short-term bonds.

Long-term Bonds Are Less Attractive

Based on our outlook for rising interest rates and the current low interest rate environment, we believe long-term bonds are not as attractive as short- and intermediate-term bonds. As a result, we have changed our laddering guidance to reduce our long-term bond weighting and increase our short- and intermediate-term weightings. We recommend 15% to 25% of your fixed-income portfolio be invested in long-term bonds.

We believe increasing short- and intermediate-term bonds and reducing long-term bonds will better position portfolios for future rising rates. Although their current rates are slightly lower, short- and intermediate-term bonds will be impacted less by rising interest rates. Plus, when shorter-term bonds mature, you can reinvest that money at higher interest rates.

When Rates Go Up, Bond Prices Go Down

Although all bond prices fall when interest rates rise, rising rates have less impact on shorter-term bonds. Long-term bond prices decline more significantly. Because bond prices will fall by different amounts depending on maturity, we continue to believe investors should own bonds of varying maturities. And even though bond prices will fall as interest rates rise, income from your current bonds will remain the same, assuming no bond defaults.

What Should Investors Do?

You can't predict or control when rates will move higher, but you can prepare your portfolio and yourself emotionally. Consider the following:

- Review your portfolio and your mix of investments, including stocks and bonds. If needed, rebalance your portfolio to the appropriate amounts.
- During your portfolio review, consider adjusting your bond ladder to reflect the new guidance, if appropriate.
- Avoid emotional investing. When individual bonds drop in price, the price will move closer to par value as the bonds get closer to maturity, assuming no concern about default. And don't forget that the income from individual bonds won't change if rates go up.

We believe bonds offer long-term stability and are an important part of a well-diversified portfolio. Talk with your Edward Jones financial advisor to make sure you're not surprised by falling bond prices when interest rates rise. Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 <sup>2</sup>	$ 2	$ 2
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011 <sup>1</sup>
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.04 <sup>2</sup>	$ <sup>2</sup>	$ <sup>2</sup>
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $28.18 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

<sup>3</sup> Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2011 Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $98.1 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $54.1 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $481.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2011<sup>1</sup>

Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$96,900

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.
