Drina,
I hope all went well at Carl's evaluation today. I apologize for everything that is going on right now with the family. If control is given to A&A, I do not know what that means for any of us.

Candy is more optimistic and I am trying to be. Candy found a good attorney but I am going to contact one of my own as I do not feel that I can care for Mother any more without being threatened by A&A. Mother makes her wishes very clear to me and Tino but then changes her mind when it comes time to execute and I cannot function like that anymore. I am caught between Mother and A&A with NO power.

Like I told you, should anything happen to the funding for Robert, I will help take over for as long as I can until we can get all of this sorted out. Hopefully it will not come to that.

Carole
